

JONES TO ANSWER ATTACK OF FORBES

Virginia Representative Likely to Be Heard From Early in New Session.

DELAY CAUSED BY ILLNESS

Many Interesting Things Expected During Approaching Long Term of Congress.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, November 5.—Now that the smoke of battle in the State elections in Virginia and elsewhere has cleared away, and the Tammany fight has ended, the members of Congress from the different States are beginning to return to Washington preparatory to the long session, which will begin next month.

One of the most interesting of all the developments looked for early in the new session will be the reply of Congressman William A. Jones, of Virginia, to the attack of former Governor Cameron Forbes, of the Philippine Islands. It will be remembered that about six weeks ago, just before Mr.
Jones became ill, and had to go home, Mr. Forbes landed a vicious attack upon him because of a speech, which the Virginia Congressman made on the floor of the House last winter on the subject of Philippine independence. It was the purpose of Mr. Jones to reply to the attack immediately, but because of illness he was forced to delay action. It is now almost certain that as soon as the new session begins Mr.
Jones will rise to a question of personal privilege and will answer the attack in a thorough and convincing manner.

Surprised at Attack.
Mr. Jones's friends in Congress were very much surprised when this statement of Mr. Forbes was made. Many of them heard Mr. Jones's speech, and they say they find little in the attack which was made upon it to justify it.
Therefore his friends are awaiting with interest the time when he shall ask permission of the Speaker to reply.

Not only will this be one of the interesting things which will claim the attention of the Virginia members early in the session, but from present indications more than usual activity will be shown by all of the House members and the two Senators in other ways.

It has been a long time since there has been an opportunity for local appropriations, and it is already settled that the Virginia Congressmen will be watchful of the interests of their constituents when the different bills are made up.

There will be much money spent for river and harbor improvements, public buildings, war claims and other similar bills, and if what is learned

There is now any indication of what is to follow, the coming appropriations will be the largest on record.

In addition to the appropriation bills, it is expected that within a very short time some good appointments will be handed down to Virginians from the White House. For these reasons the forthcoming session will be most interesting from every standpoint.

NORMAL COURSE IN PLAYGROUND WORK

Instruction to Be Given in Folk Dancing, Story-Telling and First Aid.

The course for playground workers will begin Saturday morning in Room III, at the John Marshall High School.
This course will continue until March.
It will afford excellent training to those who desire to secure employment as directors at the playgrounds next summer. Some of the best instructors in Richmond have been procured to teach these classes, and a high grade of work is expected.

Folk dancing, story-telling and games will form a very attractive part of the course, and it is expected that a great many teachers in the public schools and many prospective playground directors will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure instruction in these activities.

The following schedule will be in effect from Saturday morning on:

Saturday, 9 to 11 o'clock, storytelling; 11 to 12 o'clock, psychology and physiology, alternate Saturdays; 12 to 1 o'clock, games.

Thursday nights, beginning November 13—7 to 8 o'clock, child study; 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock, playground administration.

Wednesday afternoons, beginning November 12, high school gymnasium—4 to 5 o'clock, folk dancing.

Third Tuesday night each month, beginning November 18—8 to 9 o'clock, first aid to the injured.

LECTURE ON HEALTH
Prof. W. H. Heck Will Speak Twice on November 14.

Both the patrons and pupils will be interested in the address of Prof.
W. H. Heck, of the University of Virginia, who will deliver two lectures on "The Health of Children" Friday, November 14, in the auditorium of the Forthman School. Prof. Heck will speak to the pupils at the school at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, and the same night at 8 o'clock he will address the patrons. The speaker was engaged through the efforts of Prof.
E. E. Smith, superintendent of the Southside schools, who expects to receive the services of other prominent men to deliver educational addresses at different times.

Prof. Heck is a very powerful speaker, and his lecture is looked forward to with much interest. He will discuss among other things the various diseases of childhood and how to take precautions against them. Prof.
Heck will tell his hearers what are the best sanitary conditions for the youngsters in both the school and home.

Raises Big Potatoes.
The yield of Irish potatoes in Chesterfield County this year is said to be especially large. Mrs. N. M. Butts, who owns a large farm in the county, raised potatoes weighing on an average of one and three-quarter pounds.
Only about forty of the mammoth specimens were required to fill a bushel basket. The crop was a genuine field of the average richness, which is found in Chesterfield. With only a few exceptions, the yield was perfect.

"It only shows," said an interested observer yesterday, "what good returns the soil of the county will make with a little care and attention."

Compromise Suit.
The suit in assumption of L. H. Goldberg against H. W. Garry was compromised without a trial yesterday in Hastings Court, Part II. There will be no more cases heard this week.
The suits of Walter Kidd against P. D.
Lipcomb, and that of W. Duncan Leo against Elizabeth A. Rountree have been indefinitely postponed.

NO AUTHORITY TO BORROW FUNDS

Attorney-General Rules Against Proposed Action by Council of State.

BLOW TO HOME FOR WOMEN

It Must Wait Until Money Is Provided by Legislature.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., November 5.—That there is no authority for the Council of State to authorize the borrowing of the $10,000 appropriation by the Legislature for the North Carolina Home for Widows and Orphans of Confederate Veterans, which was not provided for on the general bond issue bill, is the ruling made by Attorney-General Dickett, to whom the matter was recently referred by the Council of State in conference with the directors of the home. This question was re-disposed of by the Attorney-General more than a year ago, when he ruled at the request of Governor Kitchin on the right of the Council of State to authorize the directors of the State School for the Deaf and Dumb to borrow money. There was a number of years ago an enactment by the Legislature giving authority to the Council of State to borrow money for emergencies and dire necessities that might arise between sessions of the Legislature. But this has been repealed.

This condition of affairs means that nothing can be done toward the erection of the main building for the home until the Legislature meets again and makes provision by bond issue or otherwise for the $10,000 appropriation made at the regular 1913 session.

A number of the State officers express their satisfaction at this condition of affairs, since it is evident, they say, that the provision of homes for only thirty women, as planned at Fayetteville, would be ridiculous, when there are probably 3,000 in the entire State that deserve to be provided for if there is such an undertaking at all.

Joins in Protest.
U. L. Spence was here to-day to add the Rockfish and Aberdeen Railroad Company to the number of interstate carriers which have filed with Governor Craig formal protests against the application of the freight rates fixed in the Justice rate bill, passed by the Legislature in extra session last month.

The Aberdeen and Rockfish joins in asking that the Governor proceed to name the special rate commission to investigate conditions in the State, and adjust them on some equitable basis.
The Justice act was ratified October 13, and would be operative December 13. In the event there should be no expansion through the naming of a special commission, the Governor is now looking the State over in quest of three men of just the right type for commissioners.

County Will Pay Costs.
The Wake County commissioners have voted unanimously to have the county pay all the court costs and lawyer's fees of Convict Guards Nipper and Johnson, who were convicted at the last criminal term of Wake court of unlawfully whipping and otherwise punishing a road prisoner. Also, the county will assure the costs of an appeal to the Supreme Court, and, it is understood, that in event the Supreme Court affirms the lower court, the county commissioners will pay from the county funds the $100 fine imposed by the lower court. This is done on the ground that the guards were acting in the regular line of their duty, as it had been prescribed for them by the county authorities. This is the case in which Judge Cook ruled that it is a violation of the law and the Constitution to whip a convict.

Charter Issued.
A charter was issued to-day for the Phoenix Planting Company, of Statesville, capital $25,000, authorized and $10,000 subscribed, by L. D. Swain and others, for planting mill and general work working shop business.

Married in Washington.
News was received here yesterday of the marriage Tuesday in Washington of Norman G. Haddock, of Woodland Road, No. 25, Day, and Miss Clara Haddock, of 119 South Church Street. The nuptial ceremony was a surprise to the many friends of Mr. Haddock, who slipped off to the capital city very quietly.

In Police Court, Part II.
Newton Spruel, colored, charged with beating his board bill, was dismissed by Justice Mason yesterday in Police Court, Part II, on payment of the amount due and the costs of the case.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company was fined $2.50 by Justice Mason on the charge of failing to place lights on a cart in the street.

Meeting of King's Daughters.
The regular meeting of the Swansboro Circle of King's Daughters will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. W. Holt, of 113 West Clifton Street. Several important matters will be discussed, and all the members are urged to be present.

Personal and General.
Mrs. J. M. Jowett, of Port Norfolk, Va., was a guest of Mrs. Ida B. Lloyd, of East Tenth Street.

Several important matters were discussed at a well-attended meeting of the Maslin-Bacon Minstrels last night in the home of Professor Ritchie Bacon, Woodland Heights.

Policeman R. L. Dunnivant left yesterday for a ten-days' hunting trip in Amelia County. The popular officer of the Third District expects to bag much game, and is well supplied with hounds and weapons.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Baker will be at home to receive callers on Friday afternoon and night in the parsonage of Porter Street Presbyterian Church, 1008 Porter Street, and on the second Friday in each month hereafter.

Mrs. Charles T. Jones, of 1240 Porter Street, is visiting her sister in Washington.

MYSTIFIES POLICE BY CLEVER RUSE

Miss Pankhurst Enabled to Make Address at Bow Baths in London.

London, November 5.—By a clever stratagem, which completely hoodwinked the large force of police sent to prevent her from speaking, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was enabled to announce at the Bow Baths, in the East End of London to-night, the formation of a volunteer corps organized under command of Captain Sir Francis Vane, a Boer War veteran, for the protection of militant suffragettes and labor unionists.

Miss Zelle Emerson, of Jackson, Mich., presided over the gathering. Just as the meeting was called to order the statement was made that the residence of George Lansbury, former Socialist member of Parliament and a warm supporter of the militant suffragettes, was surrounded by police. The crowd rushed from the baths and found a large number of foot and mounted police around Lansbury's house.

The lights in the house were extinguished, and suddenly a woman rushed from the doorway and sprang into a waiting taxicab, which, surrounded by mounted police, proceeded to Bethnal Green. Then Miss Daisy Lansbury, daughter of the ex-Socialist member, stepped out, much to the discomfiture of the police.

Meanwhile, Miss Pankhurst entered the bath practically unobserved. The only disorder was caused by an attack by the women on a few reporters, whom they suspected of being detectives. Mr.
Lansbury and Sir Francis Vane followed Miss Pankhurst to the platform.

The Boer veteran announced that he proposed to establish a labor training corps. Waving aloft a huge knotted club, Sir Francis said he was preparing to use that weapon wherever he saw women injured and in labor disputes.

The general staff of the organization will be drawn from officers who have seen war. Both men and women are eligible for the ranks.

Miss Pankhurst said the plan was based on the Ulster model, and she expected the same immunity from government interference as Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, enjoyed.

When Miss Pankhurst left the meeting she was surrounded by a bodyguard of East Enders and made her escape after a lively battle with the police, who drew their clubs. The crowd retailed with sticks, and the result was that several of the belligerents were injured, among them Emerson, who was knocked down and bruised about the head. She, too, escaped arrest, being carried away by sympathizers.
